

2018 Provider Enrollment Application Fee is $569

January 02, 2018

CMS has published the new application fee for 2018 in the Federal Register.

Institutional providers or suppliers must submit an application fee or hardship exception when initially enrolling, revalidating their enrollment, or adding a new Medicare practice location.

Physicians, non-physician practitioners, physician group practices, and non-physician practitioner group practices do not have to pay an application fee. You may use the NGS Medicare Enrollment Application Fee Decision Tree tool that will assist in determining if the application fee is needed.

The Medicare application fee must be paid electronically and you may pay by electronic check, credit card or by debit from your checking or savings account.

Important: If submitting a hardship request, it must be submitted with the enrollment application. It cannot be accepted separately.

The application fee can be paid from the PECOS website.
